Crocker Park Celebrates Opening of Sales Center for Westhampton

Local developer The Coral Company commences sales of 116 new homes at Crocker Park

Westlake, Ohio, September 19, 2006 – The next chapter in the history of Crocker Park is beginning to unfold. Local developer The Coral Company has opened its sales center for Westhampton, the brand new 116-unit residential community that occupies the westernmost portion of Crocker Park.

“It is such an exceptional opportunity for The Coral Company to be building the first homes for sale at Crocker Park, a development we consider one of the most phenomenal mixed-use projects in the country,” said Peter L. Rubin, CEO of The Coral Company.

Crocker Park, Westlake’s elegant lifestyle center, opened in the fall of 2004 under the bold leadership of developer Bob Stark of Stark Enterprises. The development is home to many upscale attractions, including restaurants, shops, and entertainment venues, as well as for-lease residences.

A natural piece to fit in this mosaic, Westhampton, will offer the first for-sale residences at Crocker Park. Homebuyers can choose from one of four different floor plans. Each designed to accommodate a wide variety of lifestyles, ranging from the urban-style City Loft, a three-story townhome, to the luxurious, four-bedroom Estate Home.

Now open and accepting visitors, the sales center for Westhampton is located off Crocker Park Boulevard in the heart of Crocker Park across from Arhaus Furniture at 19 Garden Court. Sales center hours are 1:00 to 5:00, Saturdays to Wednesdays. For information or to schedule a tour, contact Nicole Kaselak, Director of Sales, at (440) 871-2783.

The Coral Company, based in Beachwood, OH, was founded in 1987, is a leader in both retail and residential real estate development. Specializing in urban and infill development, in 2004 Coral acquired the historic Shaker Square on Cleveland’s east side. Westhampton at Crocker Park represents the first collaboration between The Coral Company and Stark Enterprises.
